

THURSTON MAKES FULL REPORT ON TRIP TO GET GREAT NORTHERN

Tells Promotion Committee of Visit With Officials: Hope for Next Winter

That two strong reasons for the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company deciding to take the Great Northern off the Hawaiian run until the beginning of next winter's tourist season are, first, the difficulty of getting tourists to travel to Hawaii in the summer, and secondly, mechanical difficulties making necessary a general overhauling and certain changes, which would require nearly two months for each boat, is stated in the report presented to Chairman E. A. Berndt of the Promotion Committee by Lorrin A. Thurston, the committee's and community's representative at the conference held in San Francisco with the company's officials, in an effort to have the liner retained in the island service this summer.

After listening to Mr. Thurston and carefully considering the $25,000 guarantee proposition he was authorized to tender the company on behalf of Honolulu, President L. C. Gilman and General Traffic Manager Cal Stone announced their decision, giving the following reasons for taking off the Great Northern until next November or December:

First, that both the Great Northern and Northern Pacific had been designed to connect the northern country with San Francisco, and that a fair test of normal business on that run had not yet been attained, and is necessary. This needs both boats kept on that run during the summer and into the fall.

Second, all advertising of the Hawaiian run had been discontinued, and agents notified of the discontinuance of the island service. If it were resumed now, it would consequently be insufficiently advertised.

Third, both steamers need a general overhauling urgently, as they have been running on a 21 and 22 knot schedule for a year.

Fourth, such overhauling would take from three weeks to a month for each steamer. This would interrupt the schedule for two months. Certain changes in both steamers are also planned for the early fall. This would again interrupt the schedule for about a month.

In view of these facts, the company has decided that the Great Northern must be taken off the triangular run until next fall. Advertising of the resumption of the Hawaiian service at that time will begin at once and be vigorously prosecuted.

The company told Mr. Thurston, as announced yesterday, that if Honolulu will guarantee $40,000 a trip for two sailings in November, the liner will be put back on the Hawaiian run the first week in that month. If the guarantee cannot be pledged, the first sailing date will be the first week in December, continuing until April, and later a business warranty.

Those who contributed to the $25,000 guarantee fund are now announced as follows in Mr. Thurston's report:

DOCTOR SETON GIVES FIRST OF LECTURES HERE

Head of New Thought Church
Pleases Big Audience in Kilohana Building

The source of life, the purpose of life, the way of life and the outcome of life, were the themes discussed by Julia Seton, M. D., of New York and London in the first of her series of lectures to the New Thought Club of Honolulu in their lecture room in the Kilohana building last night. She discussed these four themes both from the old orthodox standpoint and from the modern new thought viewpoint.

"The Old Master's taught that the source of human life was in the sinning against the Creator, which divorced mankind from the Creator," she said. "That the purpose of life is salvation from the condition into which mankind fell as the result of that sinning. That the way of life is adoration, devotion and endurance or overcoming. That the outcome of life is heaven or hell, according to the Christian idea, or reincarnation, according to the Buddhist conception."

"The teachings of New Thought proclaim that the source of life is divine will. That the purpose of life is the expression of that divine will and to manifest its creative function. "The way of life under the new teaching, is service and love to our fellowmen. And the outcome of life is the privilege of progressing from one plane to another ascending plane at the end of each cycle of our existence. Ascending if you will from the mineral plane, through the vegetable, the lower animal, the human, the angel, the archangel and so on up to indefinite, unknown, infinite heights of celestial existence."

Doctor Seton promised her hearers that she would tell them more of these wonderful life mysteries in her succeeding lectures. Her schedule is as follows:

Saturday, April 1, Kilohana building, 3 p. m., subject: "New Wine in Old Bottles;" at 8 p. m. at same place, "The Key to Health, Wealth and Love;" Monday, April 3, at the Bijou theater at noon, to businessmen and women: "The Science of Success;" at 3 p. m. in the Kilohana building, "Reincarnation Or Life in the Long Run;" at 8 p. m. at the same place, "Life's Master Passion;" and Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. "New Thought Healing."

BROAD VIEW IN CITIZENSHIP IS GIVEN AT RALLY

Prominent Honolulu Address
Large Meeting at Japanese
Institute

At the Japanese Central Institute on Nuuanu street last evening, Frank C. Atherton was the first of several speakers in a large citizenship rally conducted by Lloyd R. Killam and Paul Steel of the Y. M. C. A., citizenship educational committee, and presided over by Rev. Okuma.

"The Y. M. C. A. gladly assumed the responsibility of pioneering the way in the new citizenship educational movement urged by Dr. Sidney L. Gulick after his exhaustive investigation of the relations between white citizens and those of other races resident in Hawaii," said the speaker.

"While the association is a Christian organization as its name implies, it is not our object to use this method of making Christians out of the young Japanese. Our primary object is to make good citizens of the young Japanese in their new home which is so different from their own Japan." Judge Sanford B. Dole, who followed Mr. Atherton, dwelt at length on definitions of patriotism, which he likened to a school spirit on a broad scale.

"Every nation has its rivals in industry, commerce, art and literature; and each nation wishes to best its rival for the honor of the country. This is the way patriotism grows. The government protects the people and the people owe the government for this protection. "The people try to discharge this obligation to their countries sometimes by the sword; there will come a time, however, when wrongs between countries will be righted by in-

Theatrical & Amusements

CHARLEY CHAPLIN EVILS OF OPIUM COMES TO BIJOU HABIT EXPOSED

Charlie Chaplin, king of fun-makers of the screen, will be the headliner in the offering to be shown at the Bijou theater tonight. "The Tramp," one of Chaplin's greatest laugh-getters, is the title of the offering and it will be on the bill just one evening—tonight. It is hard to say just where Chaplin is at his best, but in "The Tramp" he dispenses sufficient laughter to last any member of his audience well through Sunday, which should suffice.

The public in general appears to overlook the fact that Chaplin is really a comedian, according to an interview given to an eastern photo-play paper recently by the pleasure giving, little Englishman. In this interview, Chaplin states that since he has been advertised as drawing a salary of $570,000 a year he is besieged with letters from all over the world—all of them begging. In many he is offered an opportunity to make a still larger fortune while others are Simon-pure "give-me" epistles. "All the way from founding homes for stray cats to backing the latest lug who has solved the perpetual motion problem" is the gamut run in these letters according to the star himself. Mentioning Charlie contents himself with his manager (?) pay, practices thrift and continues to be the magnet that his photo-play houses efficiently fortunate to secure his offerings.

In addition to Chaplin in "The Tramp" the Bijou will offer a new Biograph special feature entitled "The Sinners' Punishment." This is a screen feature, introducing a number of prominent stars. It is a picture of tense scenes and situations and the entire bill at the Bijou should prove a strong drawing card for tonight.

International tribunals as courts are now able to settle disputes between individuals.

Hawaiian birth certificates were explained by Secretary of the Territory Wade Warren Thayer, who also explained which he discontinued issuing these certificates two years ago on taking office. He gave as his reason that these certificates were not accepted by the immigration officials and he decided to stop issuing them until the immigration officials agreed to accept them. As they have finally agreed to accept them, Mr. Thayer will begin issuing them on April 1.

The meeting, which concluded with the singing of "America," is the second in the series of big citizenship rallies planned by the committee.

Eleanore Sweet is probably the artist of Paramount pictures most often seen in Honolulu at the Liberty theater, and with her every reappearance she adds to her large following of admirers. This is not alone due to her pleasing personality, which cannot help but force itself from the screen into the very heart of her audience, but also for the reason that her work is improving with every new appearance until, in "The Secret Sin," the present Liberty feature, she is seen at her best.

In "The Secret Sin," Miss Sweet appears in a dual role, as twin sisters. One of these girls is a weakling, addicted to the opium habit. The other, a strong-willed young woman, is determined to save her unfortunate sister. The deaths to which the purveyors of the poppy juice will go to lure their victims and the mountainous difficulties that beset those who would free themselves vividly told in this feature. It is a "temperance" lesson against drugs.

The double and triple exposure camera work in this feature, in which both characters portrayed by Miss Sweet appear on the screen at the same time, is most remarkable, and it was the rapid strides made in this new art in a very short time. Supporting Miss Sweet are Thomas Meighan and Susane Havakawa, the former a strong favorite with photo-play fans, the latter the leading Japanese actor appearing on the American stage.

Little Pickford also appears in the 27th chapter of "The Diamond From the Sky," the thrilling serial that is a big attraction of the week-end bill at Liberty.

JACK LONDON AND WIFE
HONOR GUESTS AT DANCE

Despite the rain, a large crowd turned out last night at the regular Friday night dance of Manafied Camp, U. S. W. V., to greet Mr. and Mrs. Jack London, who were the guests of honor for the occasion. The Signal Corps Glee Club furnished excellent music and the original "Cream of Wheat" gentleman served delicious punch in a manner fitting to the occasion.

The Mansfield Camp, U. S. W. V., is becoming a very large factor in solving the question "What Can We Do For the Soldier?" by furnishing those within the vicinity of Honolulu with good dances twice a month.

UNUSUALLY BIG SHOW AT HAWAII

"From the Valley of the Missing," the big Fox Film corporation offering that has held hundreds spell-bound during the last few days, will be shown at the Hawaii theater for the last time tonight. The work of Grace Miller White, author of "Tess of the Storm Country," and produced under the direction of Frank Powell, director of "A Fool There Was" and "Children of the Ghetto," this feature is a genuine masterpiece. It is an elaborate and expensive production. The cost of making is given as $100,000; the cast is comprised of upwards of 500 persons; the scenes number more than 500; among the latter are a circus and county fair which were put given to the production especially; the capital at Washington and the governor's mansion at Albany.

Included in the cast are a number of the leading artists of the Fox studios. These are: The Tobin Twins, a clever pair of children; Jena Miller, Robert Cummings, Billy Hatch, Harry Spinger and Clifford Bruce.

One of the most interesting educational features thus far shown in Honolulu is that of "A Day at San Diego Fair," also a feature at the Hawaii for the last time tonight. This southern California exposition while not attracting the attention that was given to San Francisco's big show, is a most delightful little world's fair and continues in favor with tourists from the East. Hawaii has an exhibit in this exposition and good results are forthcoming as a consequence.

"The Universal Weekly" and "Wanted a Chaperone," in two reels, complete a mammoth program of nine reels which is on the bill for the final showing tonight.

COLLEGE'S NEW ROAD
NEARING COMPLETION

Under the direction of Prof. J. M. Young, and in accordance with plans prepared by the engineering department, the new road at the College of Hawaii is rapidly nearing completion, and may be finished by the end of the next week. The new highway connects Metcalf street with Malle Way and provides an excellent entrance to Manoa Valley. Actual construction work is being done by the Honolulu Construction and Draying Company.
